About Deluxe Veterinary Medicine and Deluxe Animal Health

Deluxe Veterinary Medicine (DVM) is a production animal consulting veterinary practice based in Sheldon, Iowa. Deluxe Animal Health partners with DVM to deliver innovative veterinary services, herd health management, and practical, sustainable solutions for livestock producers across Northwest and Western Iowa. We primarily serve cow/calf, feedlot, dairy, and swine operations, while also supporting small animals and other livestock enterprises.

Position Overview

Deluxe Veterinary Medicine is seeking an Associate Veterinarian to join our team in Northwest and Western Iowa. This position offers a well-rounded opportunity for a veterinarian interested in both production animal and small animal medicine, supported by an experienced team and strong client relationships in the region.

This role will focus primarily on cattle (cow/calf and feedlot), dairy, swine and auction market services with occasional small animal practice. On the small animal side, responsibilities include routine surgeries and wellness checks, with specialist services referred to a larger animal hospital. The clinic is equipped with in-house diagnostics for efficient, high-quality care. On the production animal side, the position involves working with cow/calf, feedlot, dairy, swine and other livestock operations while building relationships with local producers. Candidates will assist with auction market services and support Veterinary-Client-Patient Relationship (VCPR)-based work, contributing to overall herd health and management.
